BEGINS TO LOOK LIKE HARMONYGovernor Speaks His First Public Word for Senator Spooner.*URGES HIS RETURN*Senator Spooner Set the Example by Advocating Governor's Election.*HE WILL SPEAK HERE

(Special A. D. Dispatch.) Milwaukee, Oct. 17.—For the first time since he began his tour of the state Governor La Follette urged upon the voters the necessity of selecting legislators who would be favorable to the return of a man as close in the councils of the president as Senator Spooner. This statement he made last night at West Bend where he delivered an address. While at Oshkosh Senator Spooner urged upon the voters of the state the return of the whole republican ticket from governor down to coroner.

Remarkable Unity
Whatever may be the personal enmity of the two men both in their speeches yesterday urged upon their hearers the responsibility of electing a republican ticket at the coming election. Senator Spooner took the initiative in this matter by urging the republicans to vote for La Follette at his first speech at Milwaukee. Senator Quarles has done likewise while "Long" Jones of Waukesha, candidate for state senator, has even gone farther by asserting himself for the primary election law if the people want it.

Spooner Is Not Sick
The rumors that Senator Spooner would be obliged to cancel his engagements owing to his hoarseness have been proven to be unfounded and last night at Oshkosh he made a talk of two hours before an audience that has never been equaled before in that city. While he was slightly hoarse he said emphatically that he would keep up and finish all his engagements as scheduled. He speaks in Janesville on Tuesday next.

PRESENCE OF MIND SAVES MANY LIVESEngineman Throws the Throttle Wide Open When He Feels the Trestle Sway.

Hammond, Ind., Oct. 17.—Nearly five hundred passengers who were aboard train No. 13 on the Wabash road narrowly escaped a wreck and death near Clark station. The train is known as the Buffalo limited, and reaches Chicago at 9:50 in the evening. Clark station is the crossing of the Wabash and the Fort Wayne railways, and is four miles east of this place.

A short distance out of Clark the Wabash crosses the Grand Calumet river over a huge trestlework bridge. Some repairs had been made on the structure only recently, and it was considered perfectly safe, track walkers having just patrolled the bridge before the Wabash limited left Clark station. As the train, having aboard nearly five hundred souls, reached the middle of the structure that spanned the Calumet the engineer heard the cracking of timbers as the middle span of the bridge sank beneath his engine. He opened the throttle to the farthest limit, and the train fairly leaped from the swaying trestlework.

The case is a test one and is intended to determine the point as to whether patents granted to the railroad company are valid in cases in which the company's map of definite location was filed subsequent to settlement, the land having previously been withdrawn from settlement in accordance with an order from the interior department. TOBACCO TRUST IS IN DISFAVOR

MOVEMENT AGAINST IT IS GAINING GROUND.

INFLUENCE OF COAL STRIKE

It Has Caused a Great Decrease in Cigar Trade—Activity in Leaf Buying.

During the past week the movement against the tobacco trust has been going steadily on in Chicago. The Retail Dealers' association is gaining strength, and its members are promoting the cause with great enthusiasm. The association's trade mark is now being prominently displayed over the stores of the members. It is a large red and white affair, beginning with a denunciation of trusts in general and ending the a condemnation of the cigar trust in particular. The stores bearing it are fast getting rid of their trust stock, and the independent goods are being pushed vigorously.

Still Buying
In Wisconsin the buying of the new crop continues active, although it is not quite as lively as it was a couple of weeks ago. The lessened activity is probably due to the fact that the earlier harvested crop has been largely assorted, and also to the disposition of the buyers to call a halt until they can learn how the later tobacco is curing. There has been an overabundance of moist weather recently and purchasers believe it wise to suspend operations until they learn how the crop has been affected. Some farmers are building fires in their barns, and when the wood used is perfectly dry, the leaf is benefited by this means. If the wood is green there is danger that the tobacco will be smoked as well as dried, but if the moist weather continues the use of either dry or green wood will prove decidedly better than none at all.

Milwaukee Dealers
Leaf men in the vicinity of Milwaukee report business as good but they are somewhat disappointed, as manufacturers do not seem to take hold as rapidly as expected. Sumatra seems to be moving best and some jobbers attribute this to the poor condition of much Connecticut on the market this fall. Prices also seem to be too high on good tobacco, and this somewhat retards business. Collections are reported as good.

Higher Grades Booming
Manufacturers are all busy, especially on the higher priced cigars, which are moving as fast as made. Kindling advises that he has discontinued making nickel goods with the exception of one private brand, and hereafter he will confine himself exclusively to the higher grades. In Philadelphia the leaf trade during the first week in October was about normal. Many of the dealers claimed the month started in rather quiet, but the same complaint was heard all through September, and yet the dealers said at the close of the month and they had had the average business of September during the past few years. The retail business has picked up somewhat.

Weather and Trade
The appearance of fine weather has not been followed by an increase of trade among retailers except in those locations catering to the very well-to-do class of trade. In fact, storekeepers in the districts frequented by the moderately circumstanced and poorer class of people report a decided and noticeable falling off in the volume of business, especially in the cigar line. The cause of the slump is without exception attributed to the existing coal famine and the consequent high price demanded for the commodity.

Coal Strike and Cigar Trade
To the casual observer such a statement may seem a little far fetched when applied to any but the poorest paid working people, but it is true nevertheless of all stores located in any but the wealthiest sections. Most of moderate incomes are finding that their outlay for fuel is so much larger than usual that they have been obliged to curtail in other directions, and one of these is the consumption of cigars. Tobacco sales, either of smoking or chewing, have not been so appreciated affected, but about the decrease in the sale of cigars there can be no question.

From San Francisco
Trade on the Pacific coast has continued moderately active during the past week. The recent changes in management of the great tobacco company interests have had the effect of reducing the volume to some extent, the retailers looking ahead to possible changes in methods under the new regime.

The political campaign now on, though not so lively as many a preceding state election, is helping out the situation and making trade for the stands down town in the popular rendezvous.

New York
In the vicinity of New York the tobacco trade is practically at a standstill. Practically all the crop has been harvested and is said to be curing satisfactorily, but as yet buyers have not been very active and hardly any sales have been reported. Of course this condition is only temporary, and any day is likely to witness the commencement of the buying movement, which is bound to occur. There is a fair demand for 1901 leaf, but there is little for sale, and only occasional small transactions are recorded. Meantime the report of the tremendous increase in the cigar output have encouraged the farmers to expect a good price for their crops, and judging from the reports from other tobacco growing sections their expectations stand a good chance of being realized.—American Tobacco Journal.

AMERICA NEEDS GOOD CITIZENS

INDIFFERENCE ON POLITICAL QUESTIONS IS DANGEROUS.

NEED MEN OF GOOD JUDGMENT

Rev. Denison Gives Able Address on Good Citizenship, at Union Prayer Service.

Indifference on the subject of voting at elections was denounced by Rev. Robert C. Denison last evening as the indifferent voter was declared to be as harmful as the man who will sell his vote. This was one of the keynotes in the able and patriotic address which Rev. Denison gave on the subject of "Good Citizenship" at the union prayer-meeting service held last evening at the Baptist church under the auspices of the W. C. T. U.

Individual Responsibility
Rev. Denison made an eloquent appeal for true citizenship. He asked what right a man has to live in this country without knowing something about the great questions of the national life. Indifference is one of the greatest evils of the times. Men of strong opinions and men who express their opinions at the ballot box are needed. There is no question as to the right or wrong of the liquor traffic. The problem is how to deal with it.

Judgment Is Important
Judgment is one of the requisites of good citizenship and is even more necessary than enthusiasm. There are two types of patriotic men, those like Phillips whose mission it is to agitate for the right and those like Abraham Lincoln, who face the question in a practical way and carry the burden of its solution. Both classes, the agitators and the statesmen, have their value in all good movements.

Christian Citizenship Best
But it isn't enough for a man to be a politician or a statesman, if he is to be a good citizen. The most important requirement is that he shall be a Christian, remembering that God is in a nation's life and that the nation is responsible to God. It is necessary to Christian citizenship to do something and in this connection the practical work of the Francis Murphy League, the Gideons and of the school teachers, who have it in their power to influence their pupils toward good citizenship, was heartily commended by the speaker.

Energy Necessary
In conclusion Rev. Denison said that people must be energetic to be good Christian workers. The one thing that Europeans scorn in Americans is their cowardice in municipal duties. They scorn the boasted American liberty because it does not govern cities so as to secure the blessings of liberty to all citizens. It was the speaker's fervent prayer that God would raise up some great man who would make the political life of America more pure.

A Splendid Meeting
Five congregations united in the union service and the parlors of the Baptist church were crowded. The meeting was an exceptionally interesting one and was opened by Rev. Richard M. Vaughan, pastor of the Baptist church. The greater part of the service was devoted to Rev. Denison's address but during the evening prayers were offered by Rev. Vaughan, Rev. J. H. Tippett, pastor of Court Street M. E. church and Mrs. J. F. Poorman, president of the W. C. T. U.

Clark's Ideas
Robert Clark, the Gideon, of Indianapolis, Ind., was called on for some remarks and he made one of his impassioned and characteristic talks about the liquor traffic. He scored ministers for dodging around the bush and not speaking direct from the shoulder, calling things by their right names. He praised the work of the W. C. T. U. and advocated voting with the prohibition party. He himself could not call himself a Christian if he leagued himself with the forces of hell and damnation on election day.

Characteristic Remarks
Mr. Clark is very radical in his views. He vigorously declared that he could not use tobacco and be a Christian. If God had intended men to smoke he would have provided the proper draft by putting a smoke stack in the tops of their heads. Mr. Clark's remarks were hardly in harmony with the thoughtful spirit of deliberation and good judgment which had previously characterized the meeting but they found favor with those who believed the solution of the liquor evil can come only through the prohibition party.

PRETTY PARTY AT MRS. HELMS' HOME

Thirty Ladies Are Charming Entertainment by Mesdames Walter Helms and C. V. Kerch.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Walter Helms and Mrs. Charles V. Kerch entertained a company of about thirty of their lady friends in a most charming manner at Mrs. Helms' home, 213 South Main street. Both ladies know how to entertain handsomely and yesterday's gathering was an especially happy one.

The attractiveness of the pleasant parlors of the home was further enhanced by beautiful decorations of autumn leaves and cut flowers. The afternoon's leisure centered in the card tables, all handed euchre being the game played. The playing, which was especially enjoyable, continued until after five o'clock. Mrs. John G. Rofford making the highest score and Mrs. Janette Holmes winning the lucky number prize.

The card games were followed by a delicious three-course luncheon, prettily served at the small tables, the hostesses being assisted by Mesdames Russell G. Colvin, H. D. Murdoch and B. F. Lincoln.

SOLDIERS IN EARNEST

Christ Church Cadets Have An Outdoor Practice Drill

Had the residents in the neighborhood of Court House park looked from their windows last night they would have seen twenty-six members of the Christ Church cadet corps march and counter-march along the roadway and through the park itself. Brave little soldier boys they looked and bravely they marched.

It was not a regular drill night but a special one to make preparation for the escort duty of Senator Spooner on Tuesday night. For an hour they drilled like veterans and then spent another half hour in the armory drilling down. The boys were enthusiastic over the honor conferred upon them and they meet again tonight for a second drill and on Monday for the final touching up of all.

SWEET CLOVER CHARMS MANY

Delightful Play of Rural Life at the Myers Opera House Last Night.

"It's a shame" was the general comment on the audience that greeted Sweet Clover at the opera house Thursday evening. If the house had been filled to standing room it would have been no more than the play deserved, but only a small sprinkling of theater-goers were seated through the house. The drama is an attractive one of the lowing and new cut hay type, and delighted those who were in attendance.

Blanche Hall, a remarkably pretty little woman who appeared to equal advantage in the unaffected ingenu part of the country maiden, or when practicing the arts of the emotional actress as the reluctant wife of Grosvenor, Otis B. Thayer, as a matter of course, was granted the admiration that his tenderly sympathetic rendition of the old man part of Jerome Holcomb, elicits.

But these were not the only members of the cast who were cordially received. Eleanor Sneldon as Abigail Holcombe, Gertrude Bondhill as Sunny, L. H. Newcomb as Grosvenor, and in fact every member of the company was capable. Miss Hall, Miss Bondhill, Newcomb and Lennon are new to the cast this season, and the attraction is not the loser by the substitutions.

Good Boys

Are the bad boys very often. The boy that's good for anything is generally pugnacious. He's a healthy animal, and the healthy animal will always fight for his rights.

When a boy shuns the rough sports of his companions he is apt to be a weakling, and to be conscious of the fact.

A great many mothers have testified to the wonderful curing and strengthening power of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. All strength comes from food after it has been perfectly digested and assimilated. By curing diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, "Golden Medical Discovery" enables the perfect nourishment of the body, which is thus built up in the only way a body can be built up—by food.

There is no alcohol in "Discovery," and it is entirely free from opium, cocaine, and all other narcotics.

"Dr. Pierce's medicine has done wonders for my two sons," writes Mrs. M. Hartick, of Denver, Colorado, N. Y. "Both had scrofula. My eldest son was taken two or three years ago, and he hemorrhaged from the lungs. It troubled him for over a year. He took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and has not had one in over a year. My younger son had scrofulous sores on his neck; had two lumps, but has not had any since he commenced to take your medicine."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in paper cover, sent free on receipt of 25 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. For cloth binding send 51 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

OUR EXPORTS

The export figures for September are extremely encouraging. They are the largest ever shown for September, with the single exception of that month in the year 900, and fall less than a half million dollars below the high water mark made in that year. The figures, as just presented by the Treasury Bureau of Statistics, show the total exports in September 1902 to be $115,521,954, against $106,959,926 in September 1901, and $115,901,722 in September 1900, the highest figure ever shown by September exportations. Comparing present conditions with those of earlier years, the figures for September 1902 are 25 per cent. in excess of those of September 1898, 50 per cent. greater than those of September 1890, more than double those of September 1888, and nearly three times as great as those of 1885. This seems to indicate that the downward tendency in the export trade caused by the corn crop failure of last year has reached its lowest point and that the reverse movement toward normal conditions has begun. Following the failure of the corn crop last year the exports tended steadily downward. Beginning with October 1901, in which the export figures were 145 million dollars, the movement was steadily downward until they reached 88 millions in July of the present year. In August the upward movement began, reaching 94 millions; and in September 115 millions, which is about 9 millions in excess of September of last year.

This decrease in exports, as is well known, was due to the corn crop failure of last year and to the low price of cotton; and while the new corn crop has not yet begun to make its appearance in the export figures of the Bureau of Statistics, the movement of the new cotton year has been active and is the principle cause of the upward trend in the export figures. The cotton exports for September were 347 million pounds, valued at 30 million dollars, in round terms, against 200 million pounds valued at 16 million dollars in September of last year, and less than 200 million pounds valued at 20 million dollars in September of the preceding year, 1900. Even breadstuffs show a decided upward tendency in the export movement during September, the total value of breadstuffs exported in September 1902 being 22 million dollars, against 12 millions in June, and 21 millions in September of last year.

The above figures relating to cotton and breadstuffs, it should be understood, are those of the preliminary statement of the Bureau of Statistics, but include 98 per cent. of the entire export of the articles named, while the figures of the total exports of the month, although practically complete, are the preliminary figures and subject to the usual revision.

THE STEEL RAIL SUPPLY

The announcement that the Southern Pacific has gone abroad for 40,000 tons of steel rails, seems to have attracted a great deal of general interest, but it is known among trade authorities that this is only one of several large orders that lately have been placed with foreign manufacturers. American makers of steel rails no longer attempt to deny that a very serious shortage exists. The greatest present difficulty is the want of adequate transportation facilities, and without improvement in this direction it is impossible to see any means of near relief for the steel rail trade.

It is estimated that the orders on the books of the companies now aggregate 2,000,000 tons. All concerns are now so badly crowded with business that they cannot undertake to deliver rails on new contracts sooner than October, 1903. Notwithstanding that the companies are booked to their utmost capacity for the remainder of this year, and the first three-quarters of next year, few mills are running full time. Their operations are hampered by the lack of transportation facilities. Prospects of material relief are, indeed, slim.

All the mills are months behind in their orders, and the big railway systems have been forced to seek rails in the foreign market. Imports are expected to reach large proportions unless the situation is speedily relieved, and no one sees now how this can be. It is certain that unless transportation facilities can be greatly improved within thirty days, the steel rail production for the last quarter of the current calendar year will fall far below - that for the corresponding quarter of last year. Railroad improvement work, too, is likely to be restricted. Manufacturers say that they might get higher prices for their rails at the expense of the current business on hand, but they have unanimously adhered to the poll schedule.—Financial Review.

BAD SPELLING

Only 56 out of 141 freshmen at the Northwestern University were able to pass an examination in spelling. They were tested with ordinary words, not with difficult and perplexing ones; and the test was too much for the most of them. Probably similar examinations at almost any American university would show substantially the same results. Spelling is not an accomplishment in which college youth excel. Nor do the graduates of the common schools distinguish themselves in this useful, but now somewhat superciliously regarded branch. The letters of the average public school graduate or university graduate are likely to be prolific in bad spelling.

Prof. Clark of the Northwestern University says the trouble is with the so-called "scientific" method of teaching spelling. The public schools turn out graduates who have learned with great pains how not to spell. The under-graduates and graduates of the colleges probably spell a little or considerably worse than the public school children.

But the great thing is the method. Nothing can equal the pity which the enthusiasts of the new method bestow upon children who have learned to spell without reliance upon it. Spelling is nothing; method is everything. Let us remember that when we come across a fantastic or blundering speller. The worse he spells, the more superior is the method by which he came to that preeminence as a muddler and twister of orthography.—New York Sun.

COL. DAN B. STARKEY

"During the pre-convention campaign, when the Free Press was devoting considerable attention to the Wisconsin Republican league, or the eleventh story organization, as it was sometimes called, it spoke of Dan B. Starkey, manager of the league's press bureau, in words which it should not have used because they were not warranted and therefore did Col. Starkey injustice. There were open to the construction of questioning Col. Starkey's standing, reliability and reputation as a faithful and industrious newspaper man. That they were not so intended does not matter; they were so construed by Col. Starkey and probably by others. Whatever opinion the Free Press might hold as to the Republican league, its purposes and methods, it could not be justified in any aspersions upon Col. Starkey's ability, honesty or standing as a newspaper man.

"His newspaper career of sixteen years had been almost wholly passed in the service of the Evening Wisconsin as reporter and correspondent, and his work there has won for him the respect and esteem of his employers and co-workers. Any reflection therefore on Col. Starkey as an individual, or on his work as a newspaper writer, or the honesty of the motives which actuated it was undeserved. The Free Press, in the fullest possible manner, therefore desires to withdraw the objectionable words which it used and to express its sincere regret that it should have done Col. Starkey the injustice of using them at all."—Milwaukee Free Press.

This is the retraction long promised to Col. Starkey and it is but the first of many retractions the Free Press will probably have to make.

STOP PROFESSIONALISM

Saturday next Wisconsin meets Beloit college in Milwaukee in a football game. A purely money making proposition for the two teams. The days were when a game between Beloit and Wisconsin on the gridiron was a sight for the gods. Enthusiasm, such as never can be found out side of the college, ran riot and good natured chaff and college squabbles were freely indulged in. Today football has gone out of the sphere of college sports. It is now a business and Wisconsin has her business manager for its athletic teams as has any business house. The manager looks at the game from the dollars and cents it brings in to the college treasury and not at keeping the game within the limits of a college sport. The Wisconsin team is to have an expensive trip to the Pacific coast this Christmas vacation. It must go to Chicago twice, once to play with Chicago University and once to meet Michigan. The Chicago game is to be played on a college campus and is within the line of college sports but the Michigan game is to be played at a hired park for the money there is in it. The twenty-two contestants of the two colleges are sent to school to school to learn how best to equip themselves for life's battles. In many cases their parents have made sacrifices to send them there. Under the present system of the paid business manager there are many men on the college team who go to college simply because they are big, strong, husky fellows and can be of use to the team when it is in a tight place. Football has ceased to be a college sport and is a professional game. Princeton, Yale and Harvard have all found the mistake out and have remedied it by having a graduate manager, not a professional one and their sport is much cleaner than it is at Wisconsin or Michigan. It is not too late to try such a move at the state university. Do away with the paid manager who works for his salary not for the good of his Alma mater and we will have good clean football.

Democracy headed by Mayor David S. Rose began a "Hoopla" campaign very early in the season. Press notices were long and elaborate but now that Spooner and Quarles and others of the really big men worth hearing are in the field the Rose special seems to have been sidetracked some where in the woods.

It seems now that May Yohe is not married to her Putty. Too bad to disappoint them again is it not? May's heart must be broken entirely this time to think she lost another chance.

President Castro has really lost his fight with the insurgents. Yesterday he had won it but today his wounded began to come in and the real story was learned.

It is now only a question of days before the debated question is settled as to who is the next governor of Wisconsin. Not much of a debated question for "Bob" will win out with ease.

The coal strike really begins to take proportions of a settlement. When Roosevelt starts a thing he usually ends what he begins.

BARELY ESCAPED AN AWFUL DEATH

MILTON FARMER SEVERELY INJURED IN A RUNAWAY.

FALLS UNDER LOAD OF WOOD

Hangs to Whiplietrees and Escapes with Broken Leg and Severe Cuts and Bruises.

August Millwitz of the town of Milton is rejoicing that he escaped with his life from an accident which befell him this morning. As it is he will be confined to his home for some time by a broken leg. The accident resulted from a breaking stake at the front of a wood wagon which threw him from the load onto the whiplietrees directly in front of the wheels and caused the team to run away. Fortunately he managed to hang to the whiplietrees although the cord wood was falling down upon his head and entire body, and this alone saved him from more serious injuries.

Lives Near Milton
Mr. Millwitz lives about twelve miles from this city to the northeast of Milton. He was bringing in a load of wood and was driving the team down East Milwaukee street, near Wisconsin, when the accident occurred. The wagon struck a rough place which had been hollowed out by the traffic, and had not been repaired, and the jolt caused one of the stakes at the front of the wagon, which held the wood in place, to snap off. The other stake followed, and Millwitz was precipitated over the front of the load, onto the whiplietrees.

Team Ran Away
At this the horses began to run down the hill, and their speed was accelerated by each stick of wood which fell on their heels. Millwitz clung to the whiplietrees and tugs and it is well that he did. If he had relaxed his grasp he would have been thrown directly under the wheels. The falling wood had thrown him so that he fell outside the off horse in front of the wheels on that side.

Bruised By Wood
Dr. Brown was driving by and saw the team plunging down the hill, with the man dragging almost under the wheels, and the wood raining merciless blows on his head, shoulders and legs as it tumbled down. Whipping up he passed the team, and dismounting brought them to a standstill. Millwitz was taken out from under the wood, and carried into the livery stable of Crall & Son.

Leg Broken
Dr. Gibson was immediately summoned and after an examination. It was found that his right leg had been broken just above the ankle. The man was in great pain, and was bruised on the body in different places and bleeding from several flesh wounds in the head. After the injured member had been bandaged the man was driven home.

THE DEATH ANGEL'S CALL

Mrs. Mary M. Boyce
Funeral services for the late Mrs. Mary M. Boyce will be held from the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Loomis, 201 Washington street, Saturday afternoon at two o'clock. Rev. J. H. Tippet, pastor of Court street M. E. Church, officiating and the interment will be in Oak Hill cemetery.

Mrs. M. E. Torbert
News was received in the city last evening of the death of Mrs. Morton E. Torbert, of St. Louis, who will be better remembered as Miss Blanche A. Drew, formerly of this city. Deceased had many friends here who will mourn her death sincerely.

Anna Masterson
At six o'clock this morning Mrs. Anna Masterson died at her home in Milton, where she has resided for the past thirty years. At the time of her death she was seventy-two years of age. She leaves to mourn her loss ten children, James and Michael of Chicago; Andrew, Joseph and John of Milton; Mrs. Wm. McBride and Mrs. Michael Powers of Harmony; Mrs. Philip Doherty of this city, and Della and Mary, who are living at the home in Milton. The time of the funeral will be announced later.

To Home Seekers
Wilson Lane has a fine tract of prairie land in Arkansas for sale, at low figures and on reasonable terms. These lands have never been broken and are selling at from $5 to $20 per acre. The country is not unlike southern Wisconsin; some prairie and some timber. Home seekers can go in our special sleeping car, Oct. 21st for one fare for the round trip with 50 cts. extra per day for this accommodation. This car remains with us until we are ready to return. I think this is the best offer in land I have ever had. We go the 21st. See me if you want to go.

Selects In The Bulk
Several local firms handle oysters but none handle a select Baltimore grade in the bulk. Such a line of oysters are at all times to be found at the C. D. Stevens store. Mr. Stevens makes a specialty of these high grade oysters and many families last winter purchased them for frying. The price, 40c per quart, which is the same as some firms charge for inferior grades.

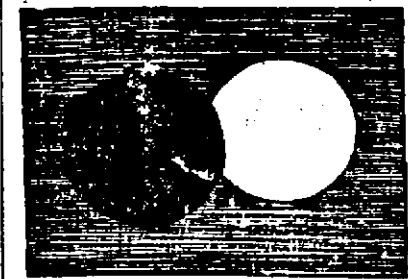

ECLIPSE OF MOON INTERESTS MANY

DEATH'S SHADOW CROSSED LUNA'S PATH LAST NIGHT AT 11.

WAS WONDERFUL SPECTACLE

It Took Nearly an Hour in Passing Across the Surface.

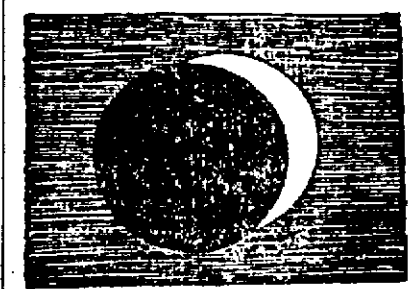

A large number of skygazers observed the total eclipse of the moon throughout the city last evening under the most favorable conditions. The moon sailed through a cloudless sky all of the evening, and this condition caused doubt in many minds whether the predicted eclipse was not an hallucination. It was slow but sure. At 10:17 the orb of light, which looked like a silver plate in the sky, began to lose its roundness, for upwards of an hour the darkness crept over it and at 11:43 it was totally obscured. For thirty-nine minutes the moon was invisible, and then

As It Was First Seen. It began to emerge from the great overwhelming shadow. At 1:50 this morning the shadows had lifted and the great light giver sailed on serene and unperturbed.

Caused By Earth
The eclipse, which is the leading October astronomical event, was caused by the shadow of the earth falling upon the moon. When it was totally eclipsed it was passing through the broadest part of the earth's shadow.

The breadth of the shadow where the moon crossed it was two and two-thirds times the breadth of the moon.

At Nearest Totality.
An odd feature of this eclipse is that only three years have elapsed since the last one. Total eclipses of the moon usually occur but once in eighteen years.

Sun Eclipse
The next occurrence that will interest astronomers is a partial eclipse of the sun, which takes place Oct. 31, but which is 'invisible' in America.

At Madison
Madison, Wis., Oct. 17.—Prof. Geo. C. Comstock, director of Washington observatory, did not take any observations of the eclipse of the moon last night for scientific reasons. He said that eclipses of the moon were of little scientific value and that astronomers nowadays rarely paid much attention to them. He watched the eclipse, however, through the big telescope in the observatory, but made no discoveries.

BRIEF NEWS NOTES

Golf Semi-Finals: At the Slinniss Golf club's links this afternoon the semi-finals in the ladies' competition for the Valentine trophy are being played. The players in the two matches are Miss Eloise Nowlan, with a handicap of 15, against Miss Helen Fifield, handicap of 12; and Mrs. F. S. Taggart, handicap of 9, against Miss Catherine Fifield, handicap 9.

Shipped Beets North: John Burtness, who is among the Janesville people who have been interested in the experiment of raising sugar beets this summer, has loaded a car to be shipped to the Wisconsin Beet Sugar company at their factory at Menomonie, Wis. Mr. Burtness will realize over $60 on the acre which he planted in sugar beets on his Mineral Point avenue farm. He believes that the industry will prove even more successful in the future and hopes that the company will erect a factory in this city in the near future.

Returned Missionary: Rev. Jas. Lawson spent yesterday in the city as the guest of his cousin, Mrs. Archie Crawford. Rev. Lawson has recently returned from India where he has been engaged in missionary work for the past twenty years. His wife is expected to arrive in this country about the middle of the month. Rev. Lawson is an uncle of T. A. Lawson, superintendent of the Wisconsin division of the Chicago & Northwestern road and has many friends and acquaintances in this city.

Something worth eating—Grubb's home made potato bread. A good dinner is better and a poor dinner is good, with Grubb's home made potato bread.

A pretty picture today—Grubb's black glossy, chocolate cup cakes. Half of the home baking you buy at Grubb's is hot and most of the other still has the gloss on it.

INSPECTS SERVICE OF MAIL DELIVERY

Many People are Reached Neither by the City Nor the Rural Carriers.

E. G. Warner of Chicago, a representative of the postoffice department, was in this city today to inspect the mail delivery service. As the matter now stands the free delivery carriers do not cover the entire territory within the city limits, and the rural delivery does not reach any part of the houses within the city limits. The result is that there are persons paying city taxes, living in an area of about two and a half square miles, who do not receive their mail as soon as many farmers in the county, unless they call for it at the office. In fact they now receive no service whatever.

Investigated Situation
It was to investigate this matter that Mr. Warner came to this city today, and he was driven over this territory. As to his opinion after he had seen the conditions he was unwilling to say anything before he had made his report to Washington. The questions which it was his duty to pay special attention to were whether these citizens had built sidewalks, numbered their houses and complied with the other conditions which are necessary to be entitled to free delivery. He was unable to make any statement as to the action which the postoffice department may take in the matter.

SUED AS RESULT OF CARNIVAL FUN

SUIT BROUGHT AGAINST INTER-URBAN OFFICIALS FOR $20,000.

JACKSON AND HILL ARE SUED

In Escaping from Elks' Police They Ran Over M. J. O'Bryane—Serious Injuries Claimed.

On Saturday of the Elks' Carnival week in this city, H. H. Jackson and R. W. Hill of the interurban road were Janesville visitors and in the course of the afternoon fell victims to the Elks' police force. By a noble exertion of their strength escape was made good, but in rushing through the crowd they knocked M. J. O'Bryane to the ground. It is said that the man was seriously injured, and the two men without unnecessary delay made good their escape to the Line City.

Arrested Thursday
Yesterday afternoon the two gentlemen were in the city, and they were met by Officer Hogan who served papers upon them, summoning them before Circuit Court Commissioner Carpenter. Suit had been brought by the injured man against the two interurban officials for $20,000 damages. According to the complaint, the damages sustained by the plaintiff were of the most serious nature, and paralysis of the lower part of the body had resulted. In fact it was reported that Thursday was the first day since the accident that he has even been out of the house and that on that occasion he was wheeled around the block in an invalid chair.

Attorneys Engaged
Under the circumstances it seemed as though the demand made for $20,000 was, if anything, too moderate. The attorneys who represent the prosecution in the case are United States District Attorney W. G. Wheeler, C. E. Pierce and M. O. Mount, while T. S. Nolan will uphold the cause of the defendants.

Tried This Afternoon
A preliminary examination was held yesterday afternoon in Court Commissioner Ed. Carpenter's office, and after several dollars in witness fees had been paid over by the accused gentlemen, a continuance was granted until three o'clock this afternoon at which time the case will be tried. The futile efforts of the defendants to exonerate themselves from blame in the matter, have caused much amusement to the attorneys in the case, and others who are on the inside of the facts in the prosecution.

The newest thing in photography, the development of films in broad daylight by the Kodak Developing Machine. It is a simple thing; done by means of an apparatus little bigger than the average camera, and as in all epoch-marking inventions, the only wonder is that nobody ever thought of it before. Cameras have been improved from year to year, and the making of pictures has been simplified to a point which brought thousands of recruits to the ranks, but the dark room has ever been a drawback. Now comes along a machine that not only does away with the dark room, but gives better results than the average amateur can secure in the dark room. Price $6.00 and $7.50.

WITH THE ATHLETES

Captain Weeks of Michigan will not be able to play against Notre Dame on Saturday, owing to a slight scratch on the calf, in which a mild form of blood poisoning has set in. Announcement has been made of the line-up with which Northwestern will face Chicago tomorrow. All of the cripples except Van Ryper will be put in at the start to play as long as possible.

Coach Hollister has again shifted Calland on the Beloit team. This time he has been taken away from the full back's position and put at quarter, where he played last season. Almost all of the varsity teams are slated for signal practice only tonight.

In order to avoid splees who wish to get a line on the play, the gophers left Minneapolis today for Lake Minnetonka, where they will remain until tomorrow noon.

Practice for the Iowa State University squad has continued behind closed gates. Coach Knipe has been calling down his men severely for failure to get into the game faster, and a decided improvement was seen.

Coach Stagg has been concentrating his efforts to develop a strong defense, and the ball has been kept in the hands of the second team. In the annual fall track meet at Princeton, Gaines, a Freshman from the University of Nebraska, made the best showing, but he will not be allowed a place on the track team yet, because he has entered from another institution.

A football game will be played tomorrow between the Athletics and Phillies of Philadelphia, two professional teams, made up partly of league baseball men, and ex-college players. A pool of $2,000 will be wagered on the result of the game.

YOUNG FATHER KILLS HIS CHILD

URNS REVOLVER ON HIMSELF

Tragedy is Caused by Suit for Divorce for Which the Slayer Places the Blame on the Man and Woman He Has Slain.

Mount Pleasant, Mich., Oct. 17.—Archie Woodin, 23 years old, shot and killed his wife's parents and his 13-months-old daughter. He was overpowered just as he had turned the weapon upon himself and inflicted a wound which will not prove fatal. The tragedy is the sequel of a suit for divorce which Mrs. Woodin instituted Oct. 10.

Having secured the weapon he rode his bicycle six miles to the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gulick, his wife's parents. Mr. Gulick was shot twice, once above the heart and once in the right side, and was instantly killed.

Kills Mother-in-Law.
Woodin then turned upon his mother-in-law, who was sitting in a rocking chair, and shot her in the throat. She ran into the kitchen and fell upon her back. Woodin followed and emptied three chambers of his revolver into her breast, killing her. A 14-year-old daughter of Gulick came in at the sound of the first shots, and seeing the blood on her mother's neck, ran to the neighbors and gave the alarm. While running down the road she heard the last three shots.

The murderer then dashed madly to his mother's home, six miles away. He rode his bicycle for one mile, then tearing off his coat and throwing it with the wheel into a fence corner, he ran a mile through the fields. He made the last four miles on a borrowed horse.

Takes Child's Life.

After speaking to a group of apple-pickers on his mother's farm, he entered the house as though nothing unusual had happened, and picking up his little girl, carried her into an empty room. In a moment the shot rang out which ended the child's life. The farm hands rushed in, but not in time to prevent Woodin from shooting himself.

The young mother, until Sept. 27, had the baby with her at the farm of Eli Ferris, where she obtained employment, but the father then took it to his mother on the promise that he would soon return it. Woodin's wife was Miss Anna M. Gulick, and they were married March 25, 1900. Woodin was a soldier in the Cuban war. At the fall he refused to talk, except to express regret that he failed to kill himself. He was laboring under the impression that his wife's parents had caused the divorce proceedings, though his wife's bill of complaint charged personal violence.

NEW FACTS ABOUT INDIAN TERRITORY.

The United States Geological Survey Shows, on a New Topographic Map, Features of a Country but Little Known. Among the most recent special maps issued by the United States Geological Survey is one of the Indian Territory, which reveals for the first time the entire area of this little-known country. During the last few years the Geological Survey has been pushing topographic work in the Territory and has been issuing topographic sheets covering portions of the country as fast as they could be completed. The map now issued, which is on a scale of approximately 8 miles to the inch, is 30 by 32 inches in size; it combines all the main features of the smaller sheets, shows the settlements, boundaries, railroad lines, and drainage, and also gives an excellent area of the topography, or inequalities of relief, by means of contour lines. By this method of expressing relief the mountainous portions of the eastern section are strongly contrasted with the more level country of the remainder of the Territory, and the general topographic relations of the whole area appear.

LIEUT. PEARY LOSES HIS TOES

Frost Bites Received in Arctic Region Compel Amputation.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 17.—An operation was performed on the feet of Lieut. Peary in this city as a result of having them frostbitten a number of times while in the arctic regions. Several toes are said to have been amputated. The following statement in reference to the operation and Mr. Peary's general condition was given out: "The operation itself was simple and successful. A speedy recovery is anticipated, and it is thought that it will not be long before he will be able to resume his official duties in the navy. The operation does not in any way affect his physical condition, saving that, as it will facilitate his walking, it will contribute to even better health. He is in first-class condition physically, in spite of his prolonged and necessarily trying experience for the last few years in the arctic regions."

PRESS COMMENT.

Detroit Free Press: The sultan of Bacolod is becoming as impertinent as a coal operator.

Washington Post: After calmly reviewing the matter, General Bragg will doubtless be able to perceive that he was H. Clay Evansseed.

Racine Times: It is really extraordinary how many people can see the duty of the president and can't see their own.

Berlin Journal: Editor Smart has sold his Wild Rose Times to C. A. Colby of Peconica, Ill. Mr. Smart will resume duty in Chicago university.

Neenah Times: Art. J. Dodge, the Washington correspondent of The Milwaukee Sentinel, sends that paper truthful news instead of sensational trash.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: William R. Hearst's paper having tried to reform congress to suit his views and been somewhat unsuccessful, Mr. Hearst will now go there himself and see what can be done.

Fond du Lac Reporter: The striking coal miners are contending for their right to live. The operators are contending for a continuance of the power to pile up millions at the expense of labor and consumer.

Green Bay Gazette: Perhaps the operators are not as foolish after all. This is their last chance to throttle organized labor and they are making the best of their fleeting opportunity, even though it is to no purpose.

Menasha Breeze: When the election of congressmen is involved the party differences in a state campaign should give way before the great principles of party which must stand in order to preserve the national supremacy of the republican party.

Indianapolis Journal: More effective than campaign speaking are the hundreds of earnest republicans—high privates in the ranks—who put forth quite but persistent efforts to bring out a full vote. Are these republicans at work this year?

New York World: There should be no disappointment this time. The needs of the public, the "third party," in the dispute are paramount. Both parties to the unfortunate struggle should realize that the time has come when it must be ended.

Kansas City Star: The sensations of the Kansas City man who discovered he had a ton and a half of anthracite coal in his cellar can be understood only by the man who has found a forgotten ten dollar note in the pocket of the waistcoat of his last winter's suit.

and the best kind of republican wether, the republican who did not register yesterday deserves to dream for three consecutive nights that he is back again in the middle of the last Cleveland administration.

Louisville Courier-Journal: Ex-Senator Hill, in defending his proposition for government ownership of the coal mines, exclaims: "And this be socialism, let them make the most of it." Is Mr. Hill willing to substitute that sentiment for his former, "I am a Democrat?"

Philadelphia Ledger: As for the sordid, trafficking politicians, let them step aside, stay aside, and keep their unclean, meddling hands out of the strike, for the prolongation of which they are largely, if not entirely, responsible. There is no room for political bosses in this most serious business.

New York Mail and Express: The name of McGuire is an ominous one in connection with coal strikers. The Molasses of Pennsylvania are remembered, and now comes James of Syracuse, boasting that he wrote the Saratoga plank of socialism. But what bullets did for the desperadoes of the past, bullets will do for the revolutionists of the present.

La Crosse Republican and Leader: As usual, the farmer with a convenient wood lot from which to draw his winter supply of fuel has the laugh on some of his city consins. They for some years have laughed at him for the old-fashioned, busy process of keeping wood fires during the cold weather of the winter, but from all indications, they will be busier getting coal this winter than he will be with his cheap wood.

Fond du Lac Commonwealth: Three members of the South Omaha school board are in trouble, it having been alleged that they accepted bribes from certain teachers who were anxious to have their salaries advanced. It is also stated that the mutualizing policy between the board and a certain firm of typewriter manufacturers had gone too far. The rake-off is a dangerous thing at best, and the public official who accepts it will sooner or later be placed in an embarrassing position.

Oshkosh Northwestern: Corporations are not always heartless, as is shown by the recent action of the Northwestern Fuel company, which operates in Minnesota. Recently it was able to get just one cargo of anthracite coal delivered at Duluth and although it could easily have sold the entire consignment of 1,300 tons for $14 or $15 per ton, it divided the coal between the three cities of Duluth, Minneapolis and St. Paul and sold it to small consumers at the regular October price. In this way it missed a chance to make several additional thousand dollars, but it has gained

MOSQUITOES DEATH TO SHEEP

Force Flock of 6,000 Into Water, but Few Surviving.

San Antonio, Tex., Oct. 17.—Mosquitoes caused the death of 6,000 head of sheep belonging to George A. Bundrells on Matagorda Island in Cedar Bayou, near Rockport.
